TROOPS ARE LANDED UNDER A HEAVY FIRE.

(Copyrighted 1898 by Associated Press.)
ON BOARD THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH BOAT WANDA, BAIQUIRI HARBOR, Wednesday, June 2, 5 P. M., via Kingston, Jamaica, Thursday, June 23, 5:30 A. M.—At 5 o'clock this afternoon six thousand trained American soldiers are camping in and around Baiquiri and 10,000 more rest on their arms on board the transports, ready to join those who have debarked as soon as the available launches and boats can carry them ashore.

Time, sea and weather were propituous for the invasion. The navy co-operated splendidly, and as the big warships closed in on the shore to pave the way for the approach of the transports and then went back again, three cheers for the navy went up from 10,000 throats on the transports, and three cheers rose for the army from ship to ship as the troop ships moved in to take their share in the hazardous game. It was war, and it was magnificent.

The Cuban insurgents, too, bore their share in the enterprise honorably and well. Five thousand of them, in mountain fastnesses and dark thickets of ravines, lay all last night on their guns watching every road and mountain path leading from Santiago to Guantanamo. A thousand were within sight of Baiquiri, making the approach of the Spaniards under cover of the darkness an impossibility.

At 4 o'clock this morning, as the Associated Press dispatch boat approached Baiquiri, the entire island of Cuba seemed wrapped in soft mist like that of fog days in northern latitudes. Leaden clouds lay on the eastern horizon, and the color was reflected in the gray waters of the ocean which gently undulated in the mazy breeze. Distant objects loomed dimly, but it was seen that many of the troop ships that had been lying several miles in the offing had drawn in towards shore, while three or four warships lay menacingly near the harbor approach. All around transports steam launches and small boats were bobbing about like corks, the first indication of the true object of the undertaking ahead.

An hour later the sun was rising in the eastern sky, touching the mountain tops with paths of light green and revealing the great semi-circle of troop ships, some close to the coast line, others a mile distant, with their decks crowded with eager, expectant men, impatient to begin the great movement of destiny, to make a new chapter in the history of America, the first invasion by our army of a foreign country in half a century.

As the dispatch boat of the Associated Press ran closer in, where the New Orleans was lying with her great Armstrong guns trained on Baiquiri tongues of flame and black smoke were seen rising in the town, the inevitable consequence of war and a sure sign that the Spaniards had gone, leaving ruin behind.

The captain of the New Orleans shouted the news to the dispatch boat, adding:

"You had better keep off a little. You are in range. They have a rifle on the hill to the eastern side of Baiquiri."

This is a steep rocky hill known as Punta Baiquiri, rising almost perpendicularly at the place idicated. It is a veritable Gibraltarn in possibilities of defense. From the staff at is summit the Spanish flag was defiantly floating at sunset last night, but it was gone today and with it the small Spanish guard which had maintained the signal station. Between nightfall and dawn the Spaniards had taken the alarm and fled from the place, firing the town as they left. The flames were watched with interest from the ships. Two sharp explosions were heard. At first they were thought to be reports of guns from the Spanish masked batteries, but they proved to be the explosion of ammunition in the burning buildings.

Three hours' waiting made the men on the transports impatient to get ashore and in action, and every move of the warships was closely watched by the soldiers. A little before 9 o'clock the bombardment of the batteries of Jaragua was begun by the ships of Rear Admiral Sampson's fleet. This was evidently a feint to cover the real point of attack, Jaragua being about half way between Baiquiri and Santiago. The bombardment lasted about twenty minutes.

The scene then quickly shifted back again to the semicircle of the transport fleet before Baiquiri.

At 9:40 the New Orleans opened fire with a gun that sent a shell rumbling and crashing against the hillside. The Detroit, Wasp, Machias and Suwanee followed suit, and soon the hillsides and the valleys seemed to be ablaze as shot followed shot in quick succession.

In five minutes the sea was alive with flotillas of small boats, headed by launches, speeding for Baiquiri dock. Some of the boats were manned by crews of sailors, while others were rowed by the soldiers themselves. Each boat contained sixteen men, every one in fighting trim, and carrying three days' rations, a shelter tent, a gun and 200 cartridges, ready to take the field on touching the shore, should they be called upon to do so. The firing of the warships, however, proved to be a needless precaution, as their shots were not returned and no Spaniards were visible.

Two correspondents of the Associated Press in a small boat joined the first flotilla that went ashore, and witnessed the inspiring sight of the landing.

General Shafter, on board the Seguranca, closely watched the landing of the troops.

Brigadier General Lawton, who had been detailed to command the landing of the troops, led the way in a launch, accompanied by his staff, and directed the formation of the line of operation.

A detachment of eighty regular infantry of the Eighth Regular Infantry was the first regiment to land, followed by General Shafter's old regiment, the First Infantry. Then came the Twenty-fifth Infantry, the Twenty-second Infantry, the Tenth Infantry, the Fifteenth Infantry, the Seventeenth Infantry, the Twelfth Infantry, the Second Massachusetts Regiment and a detachment of the Ninth cavalry.

The boats rushed forward simultaneously from every quarter, in good natured rivalry to be first, and their occupants scrambled over one another to leap ashore.

As the boats tossed about in the surf breaking against the pier, getting ashore was no easy matter, and the soldiers had to throw their rifles on the dock before they could climb up themselves, and some hard tumbles resulted, but nobody was hurt.

At the end of the pier the companies and regiments quickly lined up and were marched away.

General Lawton threw a strong detachment for the night about six miles west, on the road to Santiago, and another detachment was posted to the north of the town, among the hills. The rest of the troops were quartered in the town, some of them being housed in the buildings of the iron company. Some troops were quartered in deserted houses, while others still preferred the shelter of their tents in the adjoining fields.

The morning's fire, it was seen, had destroyed the round house, the repair shops and several small dwellings.

The town was deserted when the troops landed, but women and children soon appeared from the surrounding thickets and returned to their homes.

The sun-bronzed soldiers, in their slouch hats and service uniforms, quickly searched the buildings and beat up the thickets after landing, in search of lurking foes, and marched into the country beyond at nightfall, with the long, swinging stride and the alert bearing of the old frontier army men, ready to fight the Spaniards Sioux fashion or in the open, wherever they could be found. The cheers of their comrades still waiting on the transports and of the bluejackets, and the strains of "Yankee Doddlee", from the bands on the troop ships saluted them as they disappeared from view over the hills of Baiquiri.

The landing was accomplished without loss of life, the only casualty being the wounding of an insurgent on the hills by a shell from one of our ships. He will lose his arm. The insurgent troops at Baiquiri are commanded by General Castillo, and are estimated to number a thousand men.

HOW THE TROOPS ARE SITUATED AT SANTIAGO.

The Navy in Possession of the Harbor of Guantanamo as a Refuge From Cyclones.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, June, 23.—The military situation at Santiago, so far as the War and Navy Departments know, remains precisely as it was at sundown yesterday. Troops are being landed from General Shafter's corps, and this landing has not yet been completed. Neither Shafter nor Sampson has reported since the two cablegrams received last night.

This, taken in connection with the press reports, indicates that only one landing in a military sense has been made. Naturally, with so large a number of transports to be discharged, the troops have been scattered up and down the beach for several miles.

The cable station is within seven miles of the point where the debarkation is going on. The officials here say that this work cannot be completed for several days, although, of course, the troops, without their supplies, may be all ashore before that time. It appears that General Shafter is himself arranging the details of the landing, advised by Sampson and perhaps Garcia, and that the military authorities here have allowed him to exercise his discretion in this, for they do not know whether he will make more than one landing or just where that landing is. One beneficent effect of the landing at Baiquiri will be to distract the attention of the Spanish from the harbor of Guantanamo. The mines having been probably all removed and the forts that commanded the lower harbor having been silenced, with the disappearance of the Spaniards from the country surrounding the bay, the navy will be in full possession of what it has long wished for, an absolutely safe and landlocked harbor, in which all of Sampson's fleet and the transports as well can find refuge from any West Indian cyclones.

A CABLE BASE.

General Greeley received a dispatch today from Lieutenant Colonel Allen of the signal service, in charge of the cable station established at Playa del Este, Cuba. It did not relate to military operations, but from the fact that no reference was made to important developments, it was inferred that the situation has not changed materially since last night. When the landing of troops was in progress, Colonel Allen will make Playa del Este a cable base, but in addition to this a military cable line will be stretched from that point westward along the coast to the headquarters of General Shafter. By this shore loop General Shafter will be brought into direct cable communication with the War Department. Colonel Allen is hurrying forward preparations in this direction. He has all the material necessary for the shore loop, with instruments and operators ready to work the line as soon as the army headquarters are fixed.

It is not quite clear thus far at what point General Shafter and his main body of troops have established their base. The official dispatches to the Secretary of War and Secretary of the Navy spoke of landing at Baiquiri and a demonstration at Cabanas. Other official messages stated that the landing was going on simultaneously at two points, with a view to making assaults on Santiago in front and rear. The press dispatches also speak of Jaguara as a probable point of landing. At whatever point General Shafter takes up his headquarters, the military telegraph will connect them with Playa del Este and thence to Washington. Being strictly a military line, the cable line from Playa del Este will not be open for commercial business, although the authorities will be disposed to give the press such facilities as are possible under the circumstances. Most of the unofficial messages, however, will have to be handled from Playa del Este in order to avoid glutting the military loops.

Army officers were intently scanning the map of the country around Santiago today with a view of locating the troops and fixing their formation on the eve of the advance. Baiquiri is about fifteen miles east from the mouth of Santiago harbor.

SHAFTER'S LINE OF MARCH.

A small river runs inland at that point, affording additional facilities for landing. The map shows a road direct from Baiquiri to the entrance of Santiago harbor, and thence along the harbor to the city of Santiago. Besides this road, a railroad starts a few miles west of Baiquiri, circling along the coast up the mouth of Santiago harbor.

Jaguara, the other point mentioned in these dispatches, is midway between Baiquiri and Santiago harbor. It also has a small stream, giving additional facilities for landing, and the railroad appears to take its start along the coast from that point. Back of this railroad and highway the map shows mountainous formations which would make the progress of an army difficult. It seems evident from an examination of the army map that General Shafter's troops at Baiquiri or Jaguara will travel westward along the highway, perhaps utilizing the railroad, and thus approaching Santiago from the southeast.

Distinct from this landing, which is east of Santiago harbor, it seems evident that at least a part of General Shafter's force will land west of the harbor, thus allowing an attack on Santiago from the northwest. The dispatches state that a demonstration was made against Cabanas, which is shown on the military map to be a small place just west of Santiago harbor, and not more than two or three miles from the mouth.

Further to the west is Accerradero, where Generals Rabi and Garcia have a large force of Cuban troops. It is clearly inexpedient for this Cuban force to make the inland circuit clear around Santiago and form a juncture with General Shafter to the east of Santiago harbor. Their natural base, therefore, will be to the west, at Accerradero, co-operating with such of General Shafter's troops as land to the west of the harbor. A road runs from Accerradero to Cabanas. No road is shown along the west line of Santiago harbor, and the march of the American and Cuban troops making the assault on the west side of the city may be slow and laborious, through the tangled tropical underbrush, swamp and rock.

Besides the military map, the War Department has a large amount of confidential material showing the landings, roads, etc., all along the present field of operations. These include large photographs of Baiquiri. One of the photographs shows Baiquiri as a scattered group of huts on the edge of a rugged declivity, running down to the ocean. Huge boulders cover the rising ground, apparently making travel back of the town impossible. Another picture shows extensive tramways, elevated freight tracks and the elaborate plant of a large mining concern. This plant seems to assure facilities for handling the heavy artillery when it is brought ashore.

DISCONTENT IS GROWING THROUGH CUBA.

Spanish Troops Are on Scant Rations and an Outbreak is Expected at Any Moment.

(Copyrighted by Associated Press.)
IN GENERAL GARCIA'S CAMP AURREN DERAIS, SANTIAGO DE CUBA, PER THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH BOAT WANDA, VIA KINGSTON, JAMAICA, June 23.—7 A. M.—A Cuban, who left the city of Santiago on Monday night, arrived at General Garcia's camp on Tuesday morning with accurate maps of the harbor and of the earthworks surrounding it. The ships of Admiral Cervera have moved from the position they were in three days ago and now lie in almost a circle, surrounding a lighthouse about a mile from the harbor. The cruiser Christobal Colon, which is uninjured, lies to the westward, commanding with her port battery the narrow neck of the harbor, while the Vizcaya, also uninjured, lies to the east, her starboard battery looking upon the same neck.

Both of the Spanish torpedo boat destroyers are temporarily disabled, one having been struck by fragments of a shell that sunk the Reina Mercedes, and the other having her boiler tubes and engines in course of repair.

The most important statement made was, in substance, that the torpedo boats have not since their arrival here made any attempt to leave, being unable to do so. The ships have only half their supplies of coal, although some coal arrived by overland routes two weeks ago.

The shell that sunk the Reina Mercedes was fired by the Massachusetts. Beyond this loss and quite a large loss of life incident to it, there was little or no damage done. The earthworks were disturbed and one smooth-bore gun was dismounted on the west battery. Seven new guns are being put up facing the sea, three of which on the west are ship's guns of the six-inch rapid-fire variety, and automatic guns of all descriptions, it appears, are being dismounted from the ships and mounted on the earthworks surrounding the city.

A new line of trenches has been dug about a mile and a half from the city.

The Spanish soldiers known as the regular troops are on half rations, and no rations or supplies are furnished to the local Spanish forces, numbering about 3,000 men. They are compelled to forage for themselves.

The spirit of discontent, it also seems, is very widespread among the Spanish troops, and an uprising in Santiago de Cuba is feared.

There is an absolute lack of drugs in Santiago. Finally, the crews of the Spanish warships are on half rations.

HOBSON'S MEN ALL FOUGHT LIKE DEMONS

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A special to the Press from Albany says: James Mayers of the flagship New York, in a letter written to a friend in Troy says:

"Hobson and his men fought bravely to cut their way back to us, killing many Spaniards, but the tide was too strong, and they were carried shoreward and taken prisoners of war.

"The Spanish captain of the Cristobal came to this ship, bearing a flag of truce, and told the Admiral that all our men were alive but without clothes. We sent them clothes, provisions and money. He also said that our men fought like demons and killed many of their men; that the Spanish admiral said he never saw such bravery, and kissed every one of them on the forehead.

"Everybody is admiring the pluck of the Spaniards, as the odds are all against them. They have no food, clothing or way of being helped. Yet they will not give in. However, in another week we will take it without loss of blood by surrender or we will kill every Spaniard on the island. We are in it for fair, and will hold up Old Glory in spite of every human feeling. The Spaniards have been cruel to our boys of the Maine, and now we will show them what justice is and give them a little of Uncle Sam's wrath.

"By the way, when the Merrimac was going into the harbor to its doom, a big flag with 'Maine' printed on it was on the foremast. The poor Spaniards must have felt sore to see that we never forget."

MILES GETS GOOD NEWS.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—General Miles received an interesting dispatch today from one of his aide-de-camps who is with General Shafter's army at Baiquiri. He declined to give its text to the public, but said that it merely announced that the landing of troops was made allright without any casualty whatever. The only men met were Cuban insurgents. One Cuban was struck by the bursting of a shell and lost an arm, and there were about 5,700 insurgents on hand to meet them.

General Miles' correspondent also stated that the troops were in splendid spirits and ready for a fight, "and," said General Miles, "there may be a fight today."

CLAIM A VICTORY.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

MADRID, June 23, 4 P. M.—The Minister for War, General Correa, it is announced, has received an official dispatch from Santiago de Cuba, announcing that "the Americans' attack on Punta Berraco has been repulsed after a hard-fought and bloody engagement."

Punta Berraco is situated a short distance from Baiquiri. It is near to the coast, and is under the guns of the American fleet, from which it can be judged that it is highly improbable that the army has been repulsed, as stated in the above dispatch.

REPAIR SHIP FOR SAMPSON.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

BOSTON, June 23.—The United States steamer Vulcan, formerly the passenger steamer Chatham, has sailed from the Charleston navy yard. The vessel, which goes to join Sampson's fleet, contains tools to build every part of a naval ship and its electrical equipment and to manufacture small rapid-fire guns. Its outfit is valued at more than $300,000, and it is officered and manned by some of the best known ship-building experts in this country. Her captain, Lieutenant-Commander Ira Harris, is one of the best educated engineers in the country; is thoroughly conversant with naval machinery and knows a ship from stem to stern.

INSURGENTS HELD IN CHECK BY DEWEY.

LONDON, June 23.—The Manila Railroad Company, having offices in this city, has received a cablegram saying that though the Philippine insurgents have captured all but the inner city of Manila, they are respecting property and are refraining from looting.

A London agent of the insurgents claims to have information that General Aguinaldo has made a compact with Rear Admiral Dewey not to attack the walled city until the American troops arrive, when the Americans and insurgents will co-operate.

REWARD OF PATRIOTISM.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The Tribune prints the following: E. Norman Nichols, a member of the Stock Exchange, was on February 23d suspended by the Governing Committee for a period of six months. Information having been received recently that Mr. Nichols had joined Roosevelt's rough riders, the Governing Committee, at its meeting, remitted the unexpired balance of his term of suspension.

SOLDIER BOYS NOW BEFORE THE DOCTOR.

Some Stiff Tests but Results Are Good—Company A Now Regrets Insulting Fairbanks.

The physical examination of Company F began this morning. Drs. Dunn and Hamlin are conducting the examinations in the parlors of Company F and are putting the boys through a severe test.

There is a large attendance of members, and as they are only admitted to the presence of the lung-testers two at a time, the process is tedious and will consume more than two days. So far only one member has been rejected.

There is a very general impression that the non-acceptance of Company A is due to the insult administered to Colonel Fairbanks two months ago. At that time some of the boys who did not think he was doing all that was possible to secure the mustering in of his regiment, turned his picture to the wall and hung a pair of overalls over his commission. Although this indiscretion was investigated and traced to two members of Company A, no official action was taken, and the men were not discharged. It is now thought that Colonel Fairbanks is responsible for the non-acceptance of both of his companies in this city, while Alameda has been honored with a call. While no one will talk for publication, it is the one topic of conversation among the disappointed members of Company A.

The band of Company A is also anxiously waiting to learn its fate. There will, of course, be one or two bands for the regiment now being recruited, but no hint has yet been dropped as to who shall supply it.

The members of Company F have been told that they must vacate their situations by Saturday night as it is believed that the orders to march will be received by next Monday.

The boys are now putting their affairs in shape to go to the front and are preparing their equipments. There will be no difficulty in recruiting to the full strength of 103, as the emergency roll contains the names of many who are anxious to fill in any possible gaps.

WILL SOON BE UNDER CANVAS.

California's new regiment will be under canvas by the first of next week. So says Adjutant-General Barrett and every company of the twelve honored with the call for their services will strive earnestly to make good his word. There will be no new announcements of officers until the regiment is recruited and formed. Two majors, one adjutant, one quartermaster and a captain and two lieutenants of each company are yet to be named, besides an assistant surgeon in place of Dr. E. C. Van Dyke. Dr. John D. Yost is spoken of for this position and has passed the examination. He is a San Franciscan, but has been practicing in Boston for some time.

Almost every officer left in the National Guard and a thousand others have petitioned Governor Budd for commissions, but as the Governor has given it out that company officers will be sworn in with their men, if acceptable physically and otherwise, only five positions are reserved for his appointment. It will take careful consideration to fill these properly, and meanwhile the executive is besieged day and night, by mail, telegraph, telephone and in person by those who want to fight and by their friends who want to aid them to get the chance. Adjutant W. W. Greer of the Second Regiment is mentioned for the same office in the new regiment and Albert Plant for quartermaster. E. S. Heller is also hoping for the latter position.

MANY WANT TO BE MAJORS.

All the members of both Companies A and F are anxious to see Major J. F. Hayes win out in his fight for the appointment of one of the majors of the new regiment.

Those who are anxious to see Major Hayes get a commission are not confined to the ranks of the militia, for he has many friends here. Years ago he enlisted as a private in Company F and passed along up the line of promotion until he became its commander, after which he became a major and has performed the duties of that office in a very creditable manner.

"There are a great many candidates for the majorities," said Governor Budd yesterday. "The regiment will be allowed two only, instead of three majors. I think there are about 1,000 applicants for those places, and to be candid, I have not the least idea who will get them. They won't be appointed until the twelve companies arrive at their rendezvous in Oakland."

The Governor will make no changes of captains and lieutenants unless they fail to pass the required military and physical examinations.

Adjutant-General Barrett says that while a name for the new regiment has not been discussed by the Governor and his associates, it is likely that it may be called the Eighth California Volunteers. By next Monday or Tuesday General Barrett thought the companies would be ready to move to the Oakland rendezvous. It is the intention while the regiment is at Oakland to have it properly equipped in every respect.

In order to save expense the captains of the twelve companies have been ordered to have the physical qualifications of their men passed upon by local doctors. This will not do away with the examination of the men on arrival at the Oakland camp, but will prevent many who are manifestly disqualified from adding to the expense of assembling the regiment at Oakland.

MARRIED MEN NOT DESIRED.

Captain Wenk received the following order yesterday:

"To Commanding Officer, of Company —, — Regiment, N. G. C.: You will have the men of your company who desire to enter the United States volunteer service ready to leave your armory upon receipt of orders from these headquarters.

"You will bring serviceable uniforms for your men as far as possible. Each man should provide himself with a pair of serviceable shoes and a change of underclothing. Also bring arms and ordnance equipments, tents, Buzzacott ovens, blankets, haversacks, canteens, meat cans and such other camp equipments as can be used in camp.

"You will have invoices made out of all State and Government property you take into camp with you, and furnish this office with duplicate copies of same.

"The maximum number of enlisted men will be 106 per company.

"You will have a preliminary physical examination made immediately for your men, and bring only such as pass a physical examination. These will be given a rigid re-examination by the United States surgeons when rendezvoused in camp. You can take with you from six to ten men extra to fill vacancies that may be caused by rejection.

"Men leaving families dependent upon them for support are not desired. You will be very careful in the selection of your men, investigate this carefully and see that you bring no such with you. All minors must obtain the consent of their parents or guardians legally attested by a notary public. The age limit is 45.

"By direction of the Commander-in-Chief. A. W. BARRETT,
"Adjutant General."

DR. DUNN IS DISAPPOINTED.

Dr. J. P. Dunn is greatly disappointed that he was not appointed as surgeon-major to the new regiment of volunteers. Dr. Dunn is not protesting, but he has worked his way up in the National Guard and organized the only hospital corps in the State and thinks his claim to appointment was worthy of recognition.

He has taken an active part in N. G. C. work for years and spent much time during the past year in training his corps.

Dr. G. F. Shiels was given the appointment that many think should have come to Oakland.

WOULD NOT LEAVE WITHOUT FOOD.

The Colorado boys, who arrived at the pier last night, had a lively experience. The first section, 100 men, of recruits for the First Colorado Regiment, arrived last night at Oakland pier in charge of Lieutenant W. P. Bidwell and First Sergeant McWilliams. The train was side-tracked for the night at Sixteenth street station. The men will leave early in the morning for Camp Merritt. The men are equipped, except for a few rides.

This section is composed of Pueblo men. They left there last Sunday morning. When two miles out of town it was discovered that a carload of provisions and a man had been left behind. Upon the refusal of the train hands to return, the recruits took charge, set the air brakes and stood guard over the levers until they forced the trainmen to back down to the depot and take on the missing man and supplies.

PIERCE TRACT IN GREAT FAVOR.

Oakland will have a military regiment stationed here, and it is probable that before many more weeks roll by, 1200 boys in blue will be encamped among the residents of this city.

As told in last evening's Tribune, in order to select a suitable spot for encampment, Colonel Mark Henshaw, Major Baldwin and Captain Murray visited Oakland yesterday and were shown various localities by a committee of gentlemen composed of R. M. Fitzgerald, F. M. Farwell, W. W. Cameron, F. K. Mott, J. P. Taylor, Cadgie Sharp, G. B. Daniels, M. J. Keller, A. H. Breed, J. Colquhoun, Mayor W. R. Thomas, Sam Taylor, Edson F. Adams, Sol Kahn, H. Trowbridge, S. K. Hughson, M. Schleuter, and Ira Bishop.

Mr. Bishop had placed a special car at the disposal of the gentlemen. The car started from Seventh and Washington streets at 1:30 P. M. and went to Bushrod Park via Grove street. At the park the party alighted and went through the grounds. It was pointed out to Colonel Henshaw that the adjoining pasture of twenty acres or so could be used as a parade ground. The ground was looked over carefully and then the car bore the party down to Fourteenth street and out on Piedmont avenue on the Mountain View line. The next stop was at the private race-track grounds owned by Henry Pierce on Piedmont avenue about two blocks beyond St. Mary's College. There is about twenty acres in this tract which is beautifully wooded. It is rolling ground and is divided by a narrow creek. The gentlemen spent some time looking at this piece of property which favorably impressed the officers. Colonel Henshaw remarked that a house would be necessary for the accommodation of the officers and a hunt was made to find one in the immediate neighborhood. There are several suitable residences and it is believed that this need could be easily supplied.

The car then went out on the cemetery line where the party alighted and prepared to walk over to Oakland Park while the car went back and joined them later at the summit of the hill. The park proper as well as the adjoining grounds were visited and the only objection which the officers made was that perhaps the ground was too hilly.

On the way back, a stop was made at the Piedmont Baths, which Ira Bishop showed to the gentlemen. Then Mr. Adams invited the officers and civilians to take a look at the Adams Point property and the golf club house. A special car was in waiting to take the party out to the Bruguiere tract near Fruitvale on the Oakland, San Leandro and Haywards line, but as it was then 5 P. M., Colonel Henshaw announced that he would have to return to the city and it would be impossible to make the trip.

The decision of the military officers will be announced in a few days and it is very probable that the Pierce property will be selected. Pierce is out of town at present, but it is understood that he is not unwilling to allow the encampment at this tract.

"This is an ideal spot for an encampment," said Colonel Henshaw, in speaking of the Pierce property, "and it has advantages that it will be difficult to find elsewhere. We wish to select a rendezvous outside of San Francisco, because we consider it desirable to have a quiet and comparatively isolated spot where the men will be free from outside influences. This site seems to meet every requirement."

FIERCE FIGHTING AT SANTIAGO TODAY.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

MADRID, June 23, 4:20 P. M.—Cable dispatches received here from Admiral Cervera say the crews of the Spanish warships at Santiago have joined the land forces in order to take part in the defense of the city. He adds that the situation is critical, but a later dispatch affirms that the Spaniards "have victoriously repulsed the enemy."

A dispatch from the Governor of Santiago de Cuba says:

"The attack on Seboney and Baiquiri lasted until nightfall. The enemy was repulsed, except at the left at Baiquiri, where the Spaniards were obliged to retire in consequence of the flanking movement on the part of the enemy, who landed several kilometres east of Baiquiri. The Spanish forces retired in good order into the mountains. Seboney and Berraco were destroyed by the American shells."

GRATEFUL WORDS FROM THE NAVY.

The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.
Associated Press Dispatches by

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Surgeon-General Van Reypen of the navy has received a number of letters from his officers on board the ships of Admiral Sampson's squadron, testifying to the gratefulness and appreciation with which the delicacies sent for the sick and wounded have been received. These delicacies, which were made up of fruits of various kinds, etc., were purchased by the contributions received by the Surgeon-General from several of the associations throughout the country which have been raising funds for that purpose. The following is a sample of the many letters received. It is from Surgeon-General M. H. Simon of the Iowa, dated June 15th, and is in acknowledgment of stationery for the men and fruits for the sick. The letter says:

"If the ladies who sent them could see how they are appreciated by the poor fellows who have had nothing of the kind for nearly two months, during which time they have been continuously aboard ship in a temperature of between 80 and 90 degrees, they would understand better than I can tell them how refreshing the fruits are and how grateful all are for the angelic thoughtfulness which prompted the sending."

Captain Evans of the Iowa made the following endorsement on this letter:

"Dr. Simons has stated it very mildly. Being for the moment one of the sick ones, I can feelingly testify and do most willingly and gratefully express my thanks and those of my ship's company for the delightful presents."

A letter from Surgeon-General Thomas H. Streets of the Solace says that that ship arrived at Guantanamo on the 13th inst. just in time to take aboard the marines who had been wounded in the battle at that place. Afterward the ship went to the vessels of the squadron and collected their sick. There were only nine sick men on all the vessels of the squadron, who were transferred to the Solace. Subsequently the Solace returned to Guantanamo and took on board the insurgents who had been wounded in the fight. Surgeon Streets in this letter takes occasion to express the grateful appreciation of the medical corps for the pajamas donated to the ship through Mrs. Francis H. Catlin of Morristown, N. J. They were particularly serviceable, he says, for the use of the wounded marines.

CONTEST OVER THE DAVIS WILL IS TERMINATED.

Associated Press Dispatches by
The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The contest over the estate of the late Jacob Z. Davis is at an end. The verdict of a jury rendered some months ago in Judge Coffey's court, by which the holographic will of the deceased capitalist was found to be genuine and sustained, will remain undisturbed.

Notice of appeal was given, and it looked as though the Supreme Court would have to pass upon the matter. But to-day the attorneys on both sides made the announcement in court that the contest was withdrawn. Judge Coffey made the necessary order, and the property, amounting to about $800,000, will be distributed to the nieces.

It is said that the defeated contestants will receive $100,000 from the estate.

Most of the contestants live in Philadelphia. The will conveys all of the property of the deceased to his nieces, Mrs. Belle Curtis and Lizzie Muir of this city.

Thieves Enter a Saloon.

Sometimes after the closing hour last night, thieves broke into the saloon on Eighth street known as Teutonia Hall and took a bottle of port wine. An entrance was effected by prying off an inch board at the rear of the building, thus gaining an entrance to a rear room from which it was no trouble to enter the saloon. As nothing besides the bottle of wine was taken, it is difficult to arrive at a conclusion as to the object of the visit.

IS NOW BEHIND THE BARS OF AN INSANE ASYLUM

Lady Yarde-Buller Is in a Parisian Home.

Created a Scene on the Street and Was Arrested.

WILL BE KEPT FOR TWO YEARS.

Frightful Ending of General Kirkham's Beautiful and Talented Daughter.

Lady Lelia Yarde-Buller is an inmate of a home for the insane in Paris. Her vagaries which have excited comment for a number of years have at last caused her to be placed under restraint and the once petted daughter of a millionaire and the belle of London society, is now said to be a mental wreck.

She is the eldest daughter of the late General R. W. Kirkham of the United States Army, whose handsome home on Eighth street has long been one of the city's landmarks. She was first married to Lieutenant Blair by whom she had two sons, both of whom are now abroad. After her husband's death, Mrs. Blair married Yarde-Buller, a younger son of one of the noblest and wealthiest families of England. Her brilliant wit and beauty made her a success in London society but her eccentricities soon set the tongues of gossips agog. Yarde-Buller sued for a divorce, naming Valentine Gaddesden of San Francisco, co-respondent.

Mrs. Yarde-Buller fought the case bitterly and some of the most sensational testimony ever heard in court was in the annals of this case.

The fair plaintiff filed a crosscomplaint, alleging cruelty and won her suit. Then she went abroad to take care of Gaddesden who was ill and who shortly afterwards died.

After that, Mrs. Yarde-Buller returned to this country broken in health, physically and mentally. She made demands on the Kirkham estate for money and filed numerous complaints only to have them compromised or dismissed.

A few months ago she was found wandering around West Oakland scattering money and talking wildly about racetracks, jockeys, and horses. A policeman brought her to the Receiving Hospital and lodged a charge of insanity against her. Then the identity of the richly garbed woman was made known.

The Sanity Commission dismissed the charge, goaded to it partially by Lady Buller's sharp retorts but her relatives were warned that the patient's reason was trembling in the balance.

After that little episode Lady Yarde-Buller made a deed of trust of her estate, worth about $250,000, to her cousin and attorney, Ernest Wakeman of San Francisco. Since then Mr. Wakeman has managed her affairs.

He decided to take her back to London, where she had lived for many years. She denied the land of her birth, called herself an Englishwoman and always wanted to return to London.

Besides, she claimed that about $80,000 was coming to her from her marriage settlement, and Mr. Wakeman thought he might secure this money in London. So they left for the English capital several weeks ago. Since then information has been received here that Lady Yarde-Buller has finished her career in a Paris insane asylum.

When the party arrived in London they made some investigations as to the marriage settlement. It was found that the invalid had used all the money she ever had in London and, instead of being a creditor, she owed a large amount.

Mr. and Mrs. Wakeman took their charge to Paris. There Lady Yarde-Buller escaped them one day, much as she did on the day she startled West Oakland. Then the Wakemans heard that she had created a disturbance, had been arrested by the Paris police and removed to an insane asylum. It will be impossible to secure her release for two years.

Illinois Populists.

That is also the date for the Democratic State convention, and a fusion is expected. The Populist State convention held at Springfield on May 17th agreed to disagree. The Taylor faction tried to prevent the nomination of a State ticket until the Democratic State convention. They were opposed by the rock-rooted Populists in the convention. The Taylorites being refused representation they withdrew and subsequently effected an organization of its own.

COMMISSION MEN TO GO TO THE WHARF.

Edson Adams Corrects a Rumor Being Circulated.

The Eleventh street commission men have not been able to complete their contract with the Southern Pacific Company for the chartering of two steamers to carry fruit to the Broadway wharf.

It was announced about a month ago by Walter Manuel that about the middle of June the Apache and the Modoc would discharge on alternate days at the wharf. This is now all off, and a gasoline launch, the Gerald C., has been chartered by the following firms: Oakland Fruit and Produce Company, W. A. Rouse, Walter G. Manuel, E. D. Williams, Olympia & Woods, Fossing & Gallagher and M. Garcia & Co.

This schooner will leave Oakland today and will make three trips a day.

Messrs. Hunt, Hatch & Co. opened their season some weeks ago and now have three boats running up the Sacramento river, one arriving each morning.

A morning paper says today: "Had it been there was a property owner anywhere near the city or railroad wharves that was willing and public spirited enough to put up the buildings, the merchants who are now to conduct their business on the city wharf would have been occupying stores on the water front and doing their wholesale business there instead of on Eleventh street. But one could not be found who would put up the buildings, and the scheme fell through, much as the merchatns wanted to carry it out.

Edson F. Adams, president of the Adams Wharf Company, says this is a gross misstatement of facts.

"Last year," he said, "we had plans drawn by Architect Walter Matthew for a very complete method of doing commission business on the water front. We arranged for stores 25 by 80 feet, with a fine road to the front and a concrete platform in the rear and a warehouse for storage purposes. We agreed to make every facility to connect the stores with both water and rail and to maintain a fine road for teams.

"The plans included every facility for trucking from the edge of the wharf to the stores, and the whole affair was modeled to suit the desires of the commission men. Then some influence was brought to bear, and they decided not to go to the water front. Hunt, Hatch & Co. went, and are doing a big business.

"If there were any lack of enterprise, it certainly was not on the part of our company. The plans call for an expenditure of $15,000, and are yet in Mr. Matthew's office."

MRS. DONOHUE CHARGES CRUELTY

She Seeks the Courts to Secure Absolute Divorce.

Mrs. Marie Paule Donohoe has asked the Superior Court of Marin county for an absolute divorce from her husband, Denis Donohue Jr. The couple have been married since 1885, and have two children, the eldest of whom is 11 years of age.

For several years after their marriage, affairs went on very smoothly for them. Mrs. Donohoe, however, claims that of late years her husband has been mixing with evil associations and drinking wine excessively.

His carousing and late hours, says Mrs. Donohoe, have become so frequent and protracted that all her conjugal happiness has been destroyed. She alleges extreme mental cruelty in her complaint as the cause of her suit for divorce.

It is said that there will be no opposition to the divorce proceedings on the part of the husband.

The parents of the husband evidently take the wife's side of the affair, for they have now given her a home with them.

The Donohoes are well known in this city, where they have many friends.

LORD ATHOL'S VAIN ATTEMPTS.

The second petition of Henry Outridge, alias "Lord Cyril Athol," seeking release from the county jail on habeas corpus, was denied by Judge Greene yesterday. Colonel W. H. O'Brien, appearing for the witness, represented that the Lord did not present a fictitious check, but the court could not see the testimony in that light. Outridge was remanded into the sheriff's charge.

Does Not Seek Promotion.

George Bauer, the honor graduate of the University of California who received an appointment as Second Lieutenant in the regular army, will not accept the appointment and has so notified the authorities at Washington. Bauer did not seek to become an officer and was greatly surprised over the preferment given him. The recent death of his father makes it impossible for him to enter the army. Bauer was honor graduate in 1890. It is said that Fritz Denicke, son of Regent Denicke, and an honor graduate several years ago, may receive the appointment in Bauer's stead.

NO STAMPS ON MONEY ORDERS.

The Tribune's Special Leased Wire:
Associated Press Dispatches by

WASHINGTON, June 23.—An almost total stoppage of money order business on July 1st, it is said, has been averted by an agreement between the officials or the Treasury and Postoffice Departments that the law does not require stamps to be affixed to domestic money orders. It would be impossible, say the officials, to supply stamps by that date. As construed by the officers, the law requires simply an additional charge of the value of the stamps to be made when the money order is issued. The paragraph of the war revenue law in regard to money orders reads as follows:

"And from and after the 1st day of July, 1898, the provisions of this paragraph shall apply as well to original domestic money orders issued by the Government of the United States, and the price of such money orders shall be increased by a sum equal to the value of the stamps herein provided for."

The latter portion of the passage is taken to mean that stamps are not to be used. The construction of the law will obviate the use of about 32,000,000 stamps each year, that being the approximate number of money orders. Orders have been prepared by the Postoffice Department directing the officials to follow this ruling. The blank applications, etc., now in use need not be changed, and not until the stock on hand is exhausted will any change appear in money order blanks.

Spontaneous Combustion.

L. N. Cobbledick has reported to Fire Chief Ball that after a careful investigation he has located the cause of the fire Monday night. A clerk had wrapped up some linseed oil and thrown the waste into a barrel containing sawdust, the combination of which caused spontaneous combustion.

This is the theory advanced by Chief Ball at the time the fire occurred.

Weather Forecast.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Weather forecast: Fair tonight and Friday; fresh west wind.

THURSDAY.....JUNE 23, 1898.

The Populist party does not seem to Cator to fusion as much as usual this time.

An odorless onion is the latest novelty. It can't be a Spanish onion because that variety is in very bad odor just now.

"In this wheat By and By" is said to be the refrain Phil Armour is humming since he took a few million bushels off Joe Leiter's hands.

It will be hard in the future to convince Joe Leiter that thirteen is not an unlucky number. In the first thirteen days of June he lost all he had and was forced out of the market besides with an indebtedness of over six million dollars.

Before the election returns came in, Mrs. Lease said that she had about about made up her mind to take up her residence in Oregon. It is needless to say that she will move on now—she can't thrive where the Populist grass is as short as it now is in the Webfoot State.

Free silver will doubtless be lost sight of more or less in the next Presidential campaign in view of the variety of issues awakened by the present war. What with Cleveland and Bryan both decrying a war of conquest, the Hawaiian and Philippine questions are evidently going to cut a wide swath in the oratory.

All the other cities and towns of the State that are getting up Fourth of July celebrations can take back seats now that it is decided that Oakland is to have a sham battle by two of the regiments of United States troops now under the canvas at Camp Merritt. It will be worth coming many miles to see and we invite Alameda, Berkeley, and the rest of Alameda county to join in with us and make the occasion one that will become part of our history.

Don Carlos has furnished additional evidence that his head is level. His refusal of the Spanish throne was of course made because he knows that to take up the reins of government at this time would be political suicide. After the war is over though and Spain is growling in ignominy and disgrace there will come the opportune moment when he can step in and be welcomed by all as a possible saviour of the shattered fortunes of the country.

Some of the interior papers are advancing the name of Major McLaughlin for Governor and are saying that no one can deny that he is not entitled to a place on the available list. That is all very true but the editors in question have evidently forgotten the fact that the Major announced in the Tribune some time ago that he is positively not a candidate and does not desire his name mentioned in connection with the office.

Variety is not always charming as for instance witness the details of a swell dinner in China. First there was a liquid served like warm sherry, little jam dumplings and a vermicelli concoction called almond tch. Then came sugar-cane, cherries, shrimps, dates, cuttlefish, oranges, preserved duck, preserved walnuts, sea slugs, jelly fish, sharks' fins, wild duck, mushrooms, lotus nuts, pickled pigeons, eggs, pork, and bird's nest soup, after which huge platters of plain rice were placed upon the table and everyone not yet satisfied fell to with chopsticks. The average French cook would commit suicide if ordered to get up that kind of meal.

The Vallejo Chronicle relates a pretty little incident in connection with the soldiers and vouches for the truth of it. This is how the story goes: "The volunteers from Tennessee had arrived at the foot of Market street, San Francisco and were standing at parade rest, when a well-dressed gentleman approached one of the soldiers lads whose shoes showed marked signs of distress, in fact, so badly, were they worn that the wearer's toes were plainly visible. 'Sit down here,' said the well-dressed man, 'and change shoes with me. I've a better pair at home and you need these more than I.'" The anecdote ends there but it is safe to say that if the story had been told out it would have related how, after the exchange was made the Good Samaritan boarded the ferry and started for his home in Oakland.

SOLDIERS AND SNOBS.

The stories that are getting abroad regarding the Astor Mountain Battery scarcely place that would-be crack organization in an enviable light. The mere fact that its ranks contain a sprinkling of millionaires and that New York society is represented by its presence in camp, is enough to idealize it in the shallow minds of those who look to wealth and social position as the pre-requisites of the age, but to those who are, above all things, American, the veneer is not sufficient to hide the defects in the material itself.

In the first place, it can be said that in their efforts to impress the residents of the Pacific Coast with their claims to being gentlemen, the "blue-bloods" of the Astor Battery have as a rule shown themselves to be snobs. There are doubtless some decent fellows among them, but unfortunately they have not been put to the front, so the organization must be judged by those who have spoken for it. They showed their unmanliness from the start by their refusal to acknowledge the greetings of another regiment of volunteers that came into the depot at the same time they did, but in second-class passenger coaches instead of the luxurious Pullman cars in which the Astorians traveled. The only possible reason that can be advanced as to why these swell New Yorkers declined to be on terms of comradeship with their fellow soldiers is because the Iowans in question were poorly-clad and evidently hailed from the farm and counting-house instead of the club and drawing-room.

But by far the worst feature of the whole business is the way the good ladies of the Red Cross Society were snubbed by the ultra-exclusive individual who was in command of Mr. Astor's battery. He turned up his nose at the proffered hospitality and would not even permit his men to receive the flowers that had been prepared for them until at last he saw that there was danger in making himself too unpopular. And so it has been in every move made by these swell soldiers ever since. They are so exclusive in camp that the common herd is not allowed to even look at them, and an interview with the lieutenant in command can only be accomplished by the presentation of credentials and the following of more formalities than are needed to see General Merritt. In other words, these gilt-edged soldiers are making fools of themselves to all except those who pander to them because they come from New York and have money and social position.

These are not the sort of men who make good soldiers, and Mr. Astor would have put his money to far better use had he applied it to the equipment of an equal number of average American citizens. There should be no such thing as foppery and exclusiveness in the ranks of the American army and those who are inclined to display those traits should have the nonsense taken out of them as quickly as possible. The privates in Mr. Astor's mountain battery are no better than the privates in any of our California regiments or those from any other State, and the officers are in luck if they are as good. It is a pity that local society should have seen fit to put on the backs those guilty of such un-American gaucheries, for what we want under the Stars and Stripes is soldiers and not fops.

General Merritt, the commander of the Philippine expedition has received instructions from Washington to hasten to the islands with the transports that are to sail next week and to at once put in effect the plans of government decided upon. The General will take with him a large staff of officials to take charge of the various bureaus, and it looks as if his administrative duties will keep him busier than his military ones. The trust placed in his hands is one of the most important yet created by the war, and the fact that his staff contains a number of well-known Californians means that we will have a very decided interest in the success of his mission, apart from the general national one.

Senator White is bucking up against a stone wall in his attempts to delay the passage of the Hawaiian resolution by means of filibustering. It is interesting by the way to recall at this juncture the fact that the Democratic State Convention some time ago instructed Senator White to vote for annexation. This may come in handy for the Republicans later on in State campaigns in view of the violent opposition by Bryan and Cleveland to the acquisition of foreign territory.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat draws a true picture of Spanish misrule in America by calling attention to the condition of affairs in Porto Rico. The island pays Spain this year in taxes $4,374,874 of which only $650,000 is spent for the benefit of the native population. Of the 489,267 whites on the island only 96,857 can read and write. The illiterates aggregate 695,328. The Spaniards supported by the Porto Ricans number not less than 35,000.

Another very forcible proof of the rapid growth of Oklahoma is the fact that that territory has been given permission by the War Department to recruit a battalion of 400 men. Oklahoma will therefore soon have a 400 of her own that even the gilded Gothamites will envy.

Miles now wants to be a Lieutenant General. What an opportunity it would give him to sit down and plan some more new uniforms for himself. That extra title would give him the right to use several pounds more of that gold lace he is so fond of.

When the census is taken, California wants to look out that she is credited with those of her sons who have been taken East in the Oregon and for other maritime work. The navy contains a good many of our floating population.

The residents of Golden Gate are proving that there is something in a name occasionally. They want a rearrangement of the gates on the local trains and protest that the present system is a "one-sided" affair.

There is certainly justice in the appeal of the California volunteers that they be assigned to active duty. Our regiments are composed in the main of stalwart young fellows who have left their homes and surrendered good positions in order to wear the blue and they certainly would not have done so had they thought they would be consigned to waiting orders here and thereby not given an opportunity to bid for the honors to be obtained at the front. There seems no good reason anyhow why troops from other parts of the country should be brought across the Continent and hurried on to Manila while the Sixth and Seventh California regiments are meantime kept on a sidetrack.

A Kansas paper announces "Mrs. Jones called this morning and laid a dozen eggs on our table." Whether or not Mrs. Jones is the name given to a freak variety of hen is not stated.

Rushton McConnell, Fred Bordwell and Emmet Jones of this city will go to Manila with the next expedition. They are in the engineer and signal service of the army.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian Church of this city and the Christian Endeavorers went to Camp Merritt Tuesday evening and entertained a large number of the soldiers with a musical programme, concluding with refreshments.

PROTECTORATE FOR SIBERIA.

Bishop Hartzell Urges That America and Britain Act Together.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Bishop J. C. Hartzell, the representative of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Africa, has had several conferences of late with Secretary Day and other officials here relative to the desirability of having the United States co-operate with Great Britain in a protectorate over the republic of Liberia. It is understood that Bishop Hartzell also has presented the matter to the British Ambassador here. For the present, however, the attention of officials is so absorbed in questions relating to the war that there is no desire to take up a matter of this importance. It is said that a political representative of the Liberian republic, probably the Secretary of State, will arrive in this country before long to supplement the information Bishop Hartzell has presented.

PARDEE AND GAGE.

The Examiner this morning says: "The impression among Republicans who think they know something is that there are only two men in the fight for Governor, as far as the nomination goes. It is their belief that either Henry Gage, the Los Angeles attorney, or Dr. Pardee of Oakland will head the State ticket in November."

IN FAVOR OF PARDEE FOR THE NEXT GOVERNOR.

The Pacific Medical Journal, referring to the fact that Dr. Pardee is a candidate for Governor, in its June issue says:

"California has never had a doctor of medicine as her chief executive. This is not because physicians are not public-spirited, nor intellectual, nor fully competent to fill any position within the gift of the people, but rather because their line of work takes them away from the rabble into the quieter avenues of life, where publicity is neither desired nor desirable, and also, because a very active interest in public affairs consumes too much time, and seriously affects the business by which they make their daily bread.

"This year there promises to be an exception. Dr. George C. Pardee, who lives in Oakland and has his offices in San Francisco, is prominently mentioned to head the list upon the State Republican ticket. It would be difficult, if not impossible, to make a better choice. Dr. Pardee is in the prime of life, is active, able, and has paid much attention to public affairs. The physicians throughout the State, regardless of party, politics, or prejudice, should rally to his support. Knowing that he is competent and honest, they should do this because he is a physician. Our profession, which does more work than all other professions combined for the cause of humanity, has altogether too little recognition for its noble deeds. Not only is this true, but we are often misjudged. Let us, for instance, ask for a new medical law, the better to protect the people against the outrages of quackery, and we are accused of attempting to advance our selfish interests. Sanitary laws are defective, and those that are on the statute books are often not appreciated nor enforced. On general principles it would be well to have a medical governor once in a decade so that the health of the people, which is equally as important as are taxation and jobbery, might be occasionally looked after. Let us, as physicians rally to the standard of Dr. George C. Pardee. There are over twenty-five hundred of us in the State actively in practice. If each of us would personally support him and influence three friends, these ten thousand votes could not be lightly esteemed."

THE RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR.

Formally Presented Today at the White House.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Russia's first Ambassador to the United States, Count Cassini, was formally presented to the President at 11 A. M. to-day by the Secretary of State. The Ambassador, who was accompanied by his secretaries and other attachés, was received in the blue parlor of the executive mansion, where he delivered to the President his letter accrediting him to this Government. All were in complete court costume. In the course of a brief address, the Ambassador spoke of the friendly relations that had always existed between the Russian Empire and the United States, and expressed the hope that these cordial relations would continue for many years.

The Ambassador laid special stress and emphasis upon this part of his address. Altogether the speech was exceedingly friendly and cordial in tone and did not contain a sentence not in entire accord with a feeling of perfect good will and friendship. The President's reply was in the same amicable vein.

California's Insurance Law.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The Times prints the following:

Andrew J. Clunie, Commissioner of Insurance for the State of California, who has been in town for three weeks in an endeavor to reach a compromise with the foreign fire insurance companies doing business in that State, has broken off all negotiations and has issued a formal letter to all the foreign companies, excepting the Magdeburg, the Phoenix of London, the Royal Exchange, the Prussian National and the Thuringia, which, the Commissioner states, have expressed a willingness to comply with the laws of the State. The letter, which has been sent to New York, California, and home offices, quotes the political code of the State of California and announces that the Commissioner of Insurance is required by law to inspect the financial condition of all insurance companies transacting business in that State. Insurance companies in this letter are notified that they must file a detailed statement of business transacted in this and other countries.

RIOTS FOLLOW AN OSHKOSH STRIKE.

Wives of Woodworkers Arm Themselves and Defy the Police.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

OSHKOSH, Wis., June 23.—A serious riot occurred here to-day as a result of the wood-workers' strike. Several hundred women, armed with clubs, rocks, and small paper sacks of pepper, gathered near the Morgan sash, door and blind factory and waited for workmen endeavoring to enter the factory. The police were powerless to disperse the mob, and not a man was allowed to enter the factory, even the proprietors being driven back by threats of vengeance. Laborers were singled out and chased for blocks, a number of them being struck with stones and eggs. The place was ordered closed down, and the manufacturers are now holding a conference with the city officials.

A similar riot on a small scale occurred last night, during which one man had his nose smashed by a stone.

Serious trouble is anticipated, and the strikers are feeling ugly. Several incendiary fires in the past few days are laid to the strikers, and it is feared a resort to force may result in further attempts in this direction.

Wine Clause in French Treaty.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Assistant Secretary Howell has decided that Section 3 of the Act of July 24, 1897, under which the wine clause of the present reciprocity treaty with France was negotiated, impose a uniform rate of 35 cents per gallon on all still wines in casks containing 24 per cent or less of alcohol and that no imitations or compounds of such wines and no genuine wines, not the product of France, are entitled to the benefits of the treaty.

It is further held that Section 3 referred to does not interfere with the provisions of paragraph 296 of the tariff act, that any wines imported containing more than 24 per cent of alcohol shall pay duty accordingly. This ruling was called forth in answer to inquiries from certain wine dealers in California.

THE CLOTHES QUESTION.

How it is Solved by a Big Local Enterprise.

Every man in Oakland would have his clothes made to measure if he fully realized how much more comfort, more style and more money's worth he gets when he has his clothes made by A. Bieber & Co., 1005 Broadway. It isn't odd that a man who has once worn one of their made-to-order suits always goes to them for the next. They are the only tailors who guard the interests of their customers. They are careful not to deliver a suit unless it is perfect in every way and entirely satisfactory to the purchaser, and in the matter of price they please everybody. Give them a trial.

Cheap Groceries.

Attention is called to the price schedules on groceries advertised in the Tribune by H. L. Conklin, 877 Washington st. Quality considered, these prices cannot be duplicated anywhere, and the man who takes pride in his race, as well as the man who wants good groceries for small money, will think twice before he hesitates to buy from this substantial American merchant.

GRAND PLANS FOR THE CELEBRATION.

The Eagle Will Scream Through Oakland on the Fourth.

Great Sham Battle on Adams' Point to be Followed by the Bombardment of Morro Castle.

Committees in Charge Complete Arrangements, and Are Now Ready to Start the Active Preparations.

The celebration, decided upon by the Fourth of July committee at its meeting last evening, will be the grandest affair of its kind that has ever taken place in this city.

The committee has formulated a programme that will attract the people from far and near. With a parade of all the civic and fraternal organizations of this city accompanied by regiments of several thousand United States volunteers, a sham battle by real soldiers, grand entertainment in the evening to wind up with a bombardment of Morro Castle by a monitor anchored in Lake Merritt and a grand display of fireworks, there should be enough attraction to bring people from all over the State.

Mayor Thomas, in speaking of the visit of Colonel Henshaw yesterday afternoon to select a sght for the encampment of the regiment soon to be called out, said:

"Col. Park Henshaw says the entire regiment of twelve companies will come here. They would come tomorrow if their woolen blankets and shirts were here, but he does not intend to call these men out until they have the articles which are on the way from Oregon. They will be here so that the regiment will be in camp before the Fourth of July.

"The exact site for the encampment has not been selected as yet," he said, "though he had looked at four sites, any one of which could be used."

"These men will remain with us several months," continued the Mayor, "and we want to make their stay as pleasant as possible, therefore great care should be used in the selection of a site for this encampment."

A communication from President Geo. W. Arper of the Merchants' Exchange expressing regret at his inability to serve on the committee was read and placed on file.

John A. Britton of the finance committee said:

"I would like to suggest the appointment of a treasurer who should receive all funds collected by the finance committee and pay out no monies without an order from the committee of the whole."

Acting upon this suggestion, President John Mitchell appointed A. H. Breed to act as treasurer and it was decided to pay out no money except as suggested by Mr. Britton.

Mayor Thomas, chairman of the parade committee, reported as follows:

THE SHAM BATTLE.

"We visited San Francisco yesterday for the express purpose of securing a detail of troops for a parade and a sham battle. We made an assault upon Camp Merritt and secured what we wanted, including all the blank cartridge ammunition there is on the Pacific Coast, and we have powder to burn. If San Francisco wants 1,000 rounds we will let her have it for $500.

"We found General Otis in good humor and when he found us so determined, he surrendered.

"With these two regiments here with 50,000 rounds they will make a whole lot of noise.

"We will take these troops on street cars from the camp to the San Francisco ferry, where they will take the ferry steamer Garden City to the foot of Broadway. There the parade will form. After following the line of march to be announced later, the soldiers will be taken to the battle ground at Adams Point, where they will go through the guard mount, after which lunch will be served to the men.

"After lunch a half-hour's rest will be allowed before the sham battle takes place. The battle will last about an hour and a half.

"After the battle sandwiches and coffee will be served and the soldiers will then return to the ferry, cross the bay and be taken back to their camp on the street cars at our expense. They will have no cobblestones to walk over and we are going to make their stay with us a pleasant one. The greatest item of expense will be car fare, but we hope to arrange for a reduction of rates for this occasion.

"In this sham battle men will be shot down and carried off the field on stretchers by the musicians, and the sight will be a novel one and one that will be instructive to our boys and girls as well as the older folk. Tomorrow the colonels of three regiments will come over, and in company with our committee, will go over the ground and arrange the details of the battle.

"Colonel Kessler of the First Montana regiment will be in charge of the sham battle and this is sufficient guarantee that the affair will be a grand success."

At the suggestion of Mayor Thomas the name of City Engineer R. M. Clement was added to the committee.

Mr. Britton stated that Mr. Edson Adams had assured him that there would be no trouble about the city having the use of the ground, but there must be sufficient police force to protect any depredations on the improvements on the golf club's premises.

Mayor Thomas stated there was ample room for all manoeuvers without encroaching upon the golf grounds.

It was suggested that the people who wanted to see the battle should be located on the rising ground where they could look down on the soldiers, for if they circle around the troops they will be able to see but very little of the fun, for this is a case where distance will lend enchantment to the view.

The people are urged to go direct to the field and not crowd along the streets to look at the parade, for if they do this they will miss the guard mounting, which is a very interesting manoeuver which no one should fail to see. They can see the men as they march back to the ferry.

A. H. Breed of the decorating committee reported that his committee would obtain bids today and they hoped to let contracts at once for the following decorations: From First to Sixteenth streets on Broadway; Seventh to Fourteenth streets on Washington street; five strings of flags over the trolley wires on each block and below Seventh street on Broadway to First street, four rows to the block, and the same on Washington street. In addition to the flags the poles along both streets will be wrapped with red, white and blue bunting and at each of the four street corners there will be some "V" shaped wings of red, white and blue bunting, while a string of flags will be hung across the cross streets, making a square at each corner.

Mr. Breed suggested that a communication be addressed to each and every merchant on both Washington street and Broadway requesting them to make a display in front of their places of business and on high buildings have the bunting run to the top; also to string Japanese lanterns across these streets on Saturday night before the Fourth.

P. M. Fisher reported that the entertainment committee was ready to go ahead with the arrangements for the inside programme to take place in the Macdonough Theater, provided it was decided to hold literary exercises as well as to make a display of fireworks.

Mr. Sharp thought the entertainment alone would not hold the people from the country.

MORE ENTERTAINMENT.

Mr. Mott said he was in favor of the fireworks, as a Fourth of July celebration without fireworks was like a parade without a band.

Mr. Britton said it seemed to him that both could be had, as the additional cost of the inside entertainment would be trifling and a great many people will be tired out and would be glad to sit down and listen to good music and oratory. The inside programme could begin at 7:30 o'clock and be finished at 9 o'clock, affording all an opportunity to witness the fireworks and bombardment of Morro Castle.

Mr. Taylor stated that those were his sentiments.

Mr. Towle said he agreed to the above.

Mr. Britton said he would guarantee to raise enough funds to have all these entertainments with the assistance of Mr. Friend, provided it did not cost over $500. It was then unanimously decided to have the entire programme.

Mr. Sohst thought there were some American people who did not warm to the occasion and did not know that war existed, therefore he was glad they were to have a little oratory to warm them up.

In speaking of the addition of J. J. White to the fireworks committee, President Mitchell said: "I am glad to know you are to have the advice of Mr. White, for he has had experience and he handled this part of the work last year. We never had a better display of fireworks in this city.

It was estimated that $3,500 would cover all the expenses.

It was decided to employ at least six bands and three drum corps for the parade, carriages for the City Council, Board of Public Works, Board of Education and Board of Supervisors.

Webb N. Pearce was unanimously chosen grand marshal and he announced that he would appoint as his chief aid Captain G. B. Daniels.

The secretaries of the committee, Craigie Sharp and Webb N. Pearce, were appointed a committee to solicit bids for the privilege of selling lemonade on the battle field.

MORRO'S DOWNFALL.

The fireworks committee was instructed to arrange for the building of a Morro Castle on Adams Point and a monitor eighty feet long in Lake Merritt to be so arranged that a bombardment of the castle will take place during the evening.

The fireworks and decorating committees were authorized to enter into contracts not to exceed $750 and $100 respectively.

The following resolution was adopted:

"Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee that no other than the American flag shall be carried in the parade."

INVITE CO-OPERATION.

The following communication has been sent to all the societies, civic and otherwise, in this city:

"Headquarters of the Fourth of July Celebration Committee of Alameda County, June 21st, 1898:

"From one end to the other our country is aflame with the fire of patriotism—and everywhere throughout the land floats the emblem of freedom. It is with irresistible force advancing with our army and navy against the hosts of tyranny on its heaven-born mission of proclaiming liberty throughout the world. At this time let us not be lacking in patriotic fervor. If we cannot be with our brave soldiers and sailors where foemen meet in the forefront of battle, let us show mankind that the spirit of patriotism is alive within us and do our share in making the forthcoming celebration in our city the grandest known in its history. To the end that this be accomplished we cordially and earnestly invite your co-operation. Throw aside all minor considerations, marshal your hosts and join with us in the greatest parade ever held in Oakland.

"Give this your earliest consideration and advise us promptly whether or not we can count on your assistance. Yours very respectfully,

"JOHN MITCHELL, Chairman,
"CRAIGIE SHARP, Secretary."

The following members were present: Mayor Thomas, F. Sinclair, F. M. Farwell, J. F. W. Sohst, John F. Towle, Frank K. Mott, W. H. Friend, H. H. Breed, John Mitchell, John A. Britton, P. M. Fisher, J. J. White, J. S. Wixon.

The next meeting of the committee will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Although American women do not literally saw wood yet a great deal of work which in its way is quite as fatiguing comes of necessity upon every woman who takes any part in the affairs of practical life. This is just as true of well-to-do society women as it is of their less fortunate sisters. Social obligations may become no less burdensome than family cares, or the duties which fall upon women who work for their living. Life would not be so hard for women if they were healthy and strong, but the continual, dragging, nerve-sapping weakness which most women endure renders every duty a burden, and turns every effort into a source of misery and pain.

There is no need of these difficulties. There is not one case in a hundred of female weakness, but may be absolutely and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Its purifing, healing, strengthening effect is to restore complete health and capacity to the feminine organism.

Weak wives and prospective mothers are made strong and cheerful by the use of this marvelous "Prescription."

It is the only scientific preparation of its kind; the tried "Prescription" of an educated, widely experienced physician. Nearly a hundred cases of the severest forms of female complaint with the methods by which they were permanently cured are described in one chapter of Dr. Pierce's thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser." ## NO LIGHT THROWN ON BAKER'S DEATH.

Coroner's Jury Simply Finds That He Met His Fate by Drowning.

The coroner's inquest upon the remains of George M. Baker, found in the bay Tuesday morning, was held in Alameda last night. The jury found that the deceased came to his death by drowning in the waters of San Francisco bay some time between May 30th and June 21st.

BERKELEY NOTES.

Berkeley, June 23.—The San Leandro well will be used to supply West Berkeley with water, and workmen are now engaged in erecting a pumping plant and placing mains. The Alameda Water Company expects to gain an increase of at least 70,000 gallons a day from this source. By this means there will be a corresponding gain for the business portion of the town, as the amount formerly supplied to West Berkeley is now to be used for sprinkling the streets.

COLLEGIATE BOAT RACE WON BY CORNELL.

Yale Made a Desperate Struggle and Was Second.

Harvard Outclassed From the Start and Distanced.

THE ITHICANS ROWED SUPERBLY.

The Winners Led All the Way and Finished Strong and Fresh.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW LONDON, June 23, 12:32 P. M.—Yale getting in position, Cornell has first course, next to west bank of the river, Yale next, Harvard on the outside. Wind drawing around toward the south and rapidly freshening, roughening the water down the course.

The crews started at 12:37:02 (unofficial) Harvard took water first, Yale second, Cornell half a stroke behind. Yale caught Harvard at 1200-yard mark. At quarter mile Yale had clear lead of half a length, Cornell slightly ahead of Cambridge men, all rowing about thirty-four strokes to the minute.

Yale slowly but steadily increased the lead approaching the half mile. Cornell crossed half-mile line first, Yale one boat length behind, Harvard two boat lengths behind Yale.

FIRST MILE FOR CORNELL.

Cornell crossed the one-mile line first, 6 minutes, 34½ seconds. Yale follows half a boat length, Harvard two boat lengths in the rear. All three crews rowing about thirty-four strokes. Yale passes Cornell by a half boat length. At the mile and a half Cornell was again in the lead by half a length.

Cornell half a length in the lead, Yale second, Harvard three lengths behind. Time for two miles, 12:48:45. Harvard is going thirty-two strokes.

CORNELL WINS.

Cornell won by a length and an eighth, Yale second, half a dozen lengths ahead of Harvard. Cornell's time, 23:40.

Cornell finished four lengths ahead of Yale, and Harvard seven lengths behind the blue.

THE TIME.

Official time: Cornell first, 23:48; Yale second, 24:02; Harvard third, 24:35.

HOW THE RACE WAS RUN.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 23.—Cornell won the tri-University boat race on the Thames river course today, the four miles being rowed in 23:48. Yale crossed the finish line three and one-half boat lengths behind the winner and twelve lengths ahead of Harvard. Last year at Poughkeepsie, Cornell won in 20:34, Yale second, 20:44, and Harvard last, 21 minutes. Shortly after 1 o'clock the Ithicans left their quarters, two miles down the river and proceeded leisurely in their steam launch to Red Top, where they got into their shell at the Harvard float. A few minutes later the Harvard crew paddled slowly across the river to the start. At the appointed time, 12:30 P. M., the three crews were at their respective stake boats.

Referee Meiklejohn shouted his final instructions to the waiting crews and gave the order, "Get ready!" A moment of suspense, a puff of smoke, a report, and the boats were off.

Effective starts were made by all of the crews. If there was any advantage it belonged to Yale. The nose of her shell jumped to the fore, with Cornell viciously hugging it and Harvard's prow a few short lengths to the rear. Yale was the first to settle down to the racing stroke of thirty-four strokes to the minute. Cornell was soon around to the same, and in a few minutes the crimson-tipped blades were dipping water thirty-four times a minute. The long, sweeping Cook stroke sent Yale to the front a quarter of a length, where it hung for perhaps a quarter of a mile. The form of Harvard was fairly good, but during the first quarter the crimson fell to the rear slowly but surely, and at the half was behind nearly a length. From the quarter, Cornell's stroke began to assert itself. A little spurt brought Cornell's shell even with Yale's, and a little later Yale was second in the race. At the half, Cornell led Yale by a few feet and Harvard was half a length behind the leaders.

From this point to the mile they rowed prettily, and when the flags were passed Cornell's men were rapidly reaching a point where clear water could be seen between Captain Colson and the prow of Yale's shell. The Cornell men spurted, just to show that the race had not told on them.

When the mile and a half flag was reached Harvard was evidently destined to cross the finish line a poor third. Cornell continued to gain and at the end of the second mile plenty of water was discernible between the Cornell and Yale boats. From this point on, Cornell gave an exhibition of rowing never paralleled on the American Thames. She lowered her stroke and pulled a measured thirty to the minute. As Cornell and Yale approached the two and a half mile flag the latter sent its stroke up three points and began to close up the gap. Cornell did not undertake to respond to the spurt, and it was unnecessary. Cornell's rowing was as clean as a whistle. During the Yale spurt the blues lost something of their finish, and in the waist of the boat there was a splashing. The three-mile flag showed Cornell the leader by over two lengths, with Yale and Cornell both sending their strokes up. The last mile was rowed superbly by Cornell, while Yale began to show signs of distress. Still Eli's sons fought on pluckily and did succeeded in crawling up a trifle. Cornell, however, had evidently been waiting for the stretch, and during the last half mile the men rowed like demons. Yale lost a length in the last half mile while Harvard was toiling away nearly ten lengths behind.

The booming of the gun on the judge's boat announced that Cornell had crossed the line a winner. A few seconds later another report told that Yale had finished, and away back came Harvard. Cornell won the race by three and a half lengths over Yale, and over eleven lengths separated her and Harvard. Time, 23:48.

The Cornell men were apparently fresh and strong at the finish. In the Yale boat Captain Payne Whitney was apparently exhausted.

Harvard's men were not "done," and all kept their seats until their launch came alongside and took them aboard.

FRED BECKER UP ON HABEAS CORPUS.

Released on $50 Bond and the Case Set For the Last of Anzust

The habeas corpus proceedings instituted in behalf of Fred Becker came up before Judge Ellsworth this morning. After holding the defendant in $50 bonds, the matter was continued until August 30th.

Becker is testing the validity of the city ordinances requiring freshly slaughtered meats to be inspected by the United States Government authorities. He was accused of violating the ordinance, was convicted and fined. The Supreme Court granted the writ of habeas corpus and ordered his case to be heard in this county, where it will be tried on its merits.

The result of the trial will virtually determine the legality of the meat ordinance.

H. C. CAPWELL BROKE HIS ARM.

H. C. Capwell of the Lace House narrowly escaped serious injuries during a recent cycling trip in the Santa Cruz mountains, and, as it is, he is carrying his arm in a sling as the result of a bad fall. He was riding down a steep grade and was guttempoting to steady his wheel by back-pedaling. The wheel started to go rapidly down the grade. The rider knew there was a sharp turn straight ahead and realized that if he did not jump he would go over the bank. There was but a moment to consider and Mr. Capwell did not take long to make up his mind that it was the safer to jump, and jump he did, and a broken arm was the result.

ITEMS FROM THE WATER FRONT.

The Oakland Fruit Company will commence business at the Franklin-street wharf to-day.

The ship Francis Fisher has arrived at the Pacific Coast Company's landing with a cargo of 1650 tons of coal.

The ship Drum Blair will arrive at the city wharf in a few days.

The yacht Occident, owned by George Muller, is being fitted out preparatory to her trial trip on July 4th.

The sloop Mist has been sold by her present owner, Mr. Tornberg, and is now in the possession of Mr. Yale, a new member of California Yacht Club.

CYRIL ATHOL DOES NOT KNOW HIS NAME.

When Henry Outridge, alias Lord Cyril Athol and many other names, was arraigned before Judge Ellsworth this morning, he did not know which was his right name. He asked to consult with his lawyer before answering the court this question. Finally he decided his interests would be best subserved by hanging on to the first name, Henry Outridge. He was allowed until tomorrow morning in which to prepare a plea.

The eleventh district convention which was held in Haywards last Wednesday passed off very pleasantly. The best of feeling prevailed throughout the entire session, and the delegates returned to ther homes full of fresh ambitions and determined to do more for their chosen craft in the future than they had done in the past.

The delegates selected to represent the district in the head camp session are men well versed in the needs of the order and their work will doubtless redect great credit upon themselves and the district they represent. The fifteen camps of Alameda county are appointing their committees preparatory to the regular annual picnic which this year will be held the latter part of August and while the head camp is in session.

The members are determined that this will be the greatest day in the history of Woodcraft in California, as there will be present all of the hed officers of the Pacific jurisdiction and also the sovereign commander and founder of Woodcraft, the Hon. Joseph C. Root, of Omaha, Neb., and doubtless other members of the sovereign executive council.

On Sunday, July 10th, Oakland Camp 94, Spruce Camp 132 of Alameda, and Peralta Camp 123 of Berkeley will unite in a union memorial service at Mountain View Cemetery. Three monuments are to be unveiled and numerous graves to be decorated.

The new camp now being organized by the members of Oakland Camp will be organized in the very near future. The membership of the Pacific jurisdiction of July 1st will exceed 35,000 in good standing.

Degree of Honor.

The meeting of Ivy Lodge No. 4, Degree of Honor, A. O. U. W., was opened Wednesday evening by Lady of Honor Mrs. Wilkinson in absence of Chief of Honor Mrs. Carr, who later on attended and took her official position. The entertainment committee specially requested that those members who have tickets and money from the late entertainment turn them over to the committee, as it is desired to send in a final report as soon as possible. The new attraction committee, Sisters Marks and Wilkinson (Sister Ingler being absent) presented a most delightful programme which was greatly enjoyed by everybody present.

The new attraction war committee, Brothers Harris, Ingler, Mitchell and Preston, for next Wednesday evening have promised to have gatling guns in the lodge room so as to make the programme realistic. The sisters are requested to be careful with their toilet as the concussion in firing off the guns may cause spontaneous combustion of any surplus powder in sight.

A. O. U. W.

Oak Leaf Lodge No. 35, A. O. U. W., had an excellent attendance Monday evening. Master Workman William Cogan resigned and Foreman F. J. Jordan took the position by right of office. Brother Jordan upon accepting the Master Workman's chair made one of his usual characteristic speeches. Brother Cogan will resume the Master Workman's chair at the installation of the newly-elected officers which will take place during the coming month. Several debates took place during the evening which were greatly enjoyed by all. Brother Mort Smith told a very pretty story about a bell and a thief which was new about a thousand years ago. Brother Isaacs to whom the story was told fainted, but was quickly brought to with a pail. Past Master Cogan suggested that able speakers be heard at every meeting who will give an address of about twenty minutes upon interesting topics of the day. Ten tickets were purchased for the entertainment to be given by Oakland Lodge No. 2, A. O. U. W. Past Master Hall spoke of the very enjoyable time at Pacific Lodge's evening at home, and the "starring" good time during the conferring of the Oriental Degree of Humility by the Oriental Degree Team. He also commented upon the astuteness of those who took the very interesting and highly entertaining degree.

Druids.

The proposition of the Druids' Hall Association to build an addition to its brick building in Pleasanton, says The Times of that place, has been knocked on the head. The Board of Directors had planned the improvement and was about to proceed when the matter was brought to the attention of the stockholders. Certain interests representing a large block of stock protested. They asserted they wanted some interest on their investment and objected to having the first accumulations spent for an additional structure when the stockholders had been waiting a long time for a dividend. The by-laws of the association were looked up and it was found that the organization was not given power to spend its funds in the manner proposed. The protestants assert that if the directors attempt to have the addition built they will apply to the Superior Court for an injunction. Some of the stockholders who object to the improvement are: Estate of Manuel Silva, $1,400; George Johnston, $400; Druids' Lodge, $600.

F. and A. M.

Brooklyn Lodge No. 225, F. & A. M., at East Oakland, will confer the third degree next Tuesday evening, June 28th. Master Masons are cordially invited to attend.

LIVE OAK LODGE.

The third degree will be conferred in the hall of Live Oak Lodge No. 61, F. & A. M., to-morrow evening.

To-morrow being St. Johns' Day, the festival will be celebrated by many of the officers and soldiers from Camp Merritt who are Masons and who will visit the Lodge to witness the conferring of the degree.

There will be some excellent vocal selections rendered by the Temple Quartette. All Masons are cordially invited to be present.

Rebekahs.

There will be a public installation of the new officers of Haywards Rebekah Degree Lodge on July 7th. All members desiring invitations can secure them by applying to Miss Nettie Nelson.

Odd Fellows.

Last Saturday evening a special meeting was held by Livermore Odd Fellows in I. O. O. F. Hall for the purpose of conferring upon two candidates of the local order the second degree. The work was performed by the degree team of Harbor Lodge No. 253 of West Oakland. This team is said to be one of the best in the State and its reputation was admirably sustained last Saturday evening. Over 120 members of the order were present including delegates from Pleasanton, Haywards, Niles and Mission Peak. At the conclusion of the ceremony, local and visiting members repaired to the banquet hall where an elegant spread had been laid, and when ample justice had been done this feature of the programme, speeches were the order. The speakers were introduced by Prof. H. C. Petray. Several patriotic songs were rendered, and each number elicited an encore. The meeting adjourned at midnight.

Native Sons and Daughters.

The grand dance to be given at Farmers' Union on the evening of July 4th will be under the auspices of Las Positas Parlor No. 96, N. S. G. W.

The committee of arrangements are D. J. Murphy, Frank Nevin, W. E. Bangs, G. W. McIver and A. W. Feidler. Music will be furnished by the Livermore orchestra and a supper will be spread in the hall.

There will be a grand public installation of the officers of Piedmont Parlor No. 130, N. S. G. W., and Piedmont Parlor, N. D. G. W., in Loring Hall, Eleventh and Clay streets, Friday evening, July 1st, at 8 o'clock sharp.

For years the wife of a certain prominent Brooklyn official has been troubled with a dyspepsia for which no doctors' prescriptions, no old-fashioned remedies or any drug store preparations had ever given even temporary relief. Finally she was induced to try Ripans Tabules. After six weeks' use of the Tabules in accordance with the directions, taking one after each meal, she said: "My constitution is such that most medicines fail to affect me in the least, but with Ripans Tabules it was so different that I thought I felt better after I had taken the first one. They seemed to be doing something for me, and this strengthened me in my resolve to continue their use and follow the directions strictly. The effect which Ripans Tabules had on me was simply marvelous. The gastronomic feats I can now perform with their aid has delighted the household and paralyzed my doctor. I soon dispensed with his services. I took Ripans Tabules faithfully for six weeks, but they did me good from the start. I still continue taking them, because my case is one of such long standing that I realize time will be necessary to permanently cure me."

A new style packet containing TEN RIPANS TABULES in a paper carton (without glass) is now for sale at some drug stores—FOR FIVE CENTS. This low-priced sort is intended for the poor and the economical. (Two dozen of the five-cent cartons (120 tabules) can be had by mail by sending forty-eight cents to the RIPANS CHEMICAL COMPANY, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York—or a single carton (TEN TABULES) will be sent for five cents.

DETAILS OF THE HEROIC ACT.

A Fellow Officer Gives a Vivid Description of the Thrilling Scene.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says:

The following description of the heroic feat of Lieutenant Hobson in sinking the Merrimac at Santiago has been received at the Navy Department from Assistant Engineer R. C. Crank, a former shipmate and personal friend of the gallant prisoner, whose exchange has been refused by the Spaniards. It is valuable as being the account of an eye witness, as well as of an officer of distinguished technical ability, who barely missed sharing Hobson's fate, as he started into the harbor with the vessel when the first attempt was made, but was not allowed to accompany her on the second trip, in spite of his earnest protest against being detached after he had volunteered and been accepted. It conclusively shows that the Merrimac's mission was unsuccessful.

"It had been decided to try to block up the Spanish ships inside. On Wednesday, June 1st, while the officers of the Merrimac were sitting at lunch Assistant Naval Constructor R. P. Hobson came aboard from the flagship with the startling announcement that the Admiral had decided to run the Merrimac into the entrance of the channel leading to the harbor of Santiago and sink her. Mr. Hobson roughly outlined his plans, and preparations were immediately begun for putting them into execution. The four transverse bulkheads of the ship were located approximately and their position marked on the port side of the ship at the rail. The length of the Merrimac is about 344 feet, her breadth of beam about 44 feet, as nearly as can be remembered. A line was run along the port side of the ship parallel to the water line. This line was supported by 'thogging lines" that were run over the rail outside. Along this line were to be suspended in eight-inch copper cases ten charges of ordinary brown prismatic powder, each charge weighing about eighty pounds; over this an ordinary igniting charge of brown powder was placed and the whole was covered up with pitch for protection against the water, with a primer and wire for exploding the charges.

"The ship at this time contained about 2,000 tons of coal. As far as possible all stores were removed. About dark the powder charges were brought on board and lowered into position over the port side. The wire for exploding the charges was run and connected and the dry battery was made ready. The first plan contemplated the simultaneous explosion of all ten charges. It was found the battery on hand was found sufficient to explode with certainty only six of the charges, so only six were connected.

"Meanwhile one of the ship's anchors had been taken aft to the starboard quarter and lashed over the rail, ready for dropping as soon as the lashes were cut. The chain of the anchor had been led aft, forty-five fathoms led along the deck clear for running, and the chain stoppered at the after starboard bitts. The starboard bow anchor and chain were also made ready in a similar manner for letting go. The cargo (of which there are two on each side, one forward and one aft) were opened. The ship was drawing about sixteen feet of water aft, and there was about three feet of free board from the water to the lower edge of the cargo ports.

"Below in the engine room, the nuts holding the bonnets of the main injection valve and the sea suction valve of the big fire pump were slackened off, ready for instant removal, and wooden props were wedged in on top of the bonnets, so that after the nuts had been taken off one blow with a sledge would knock out the prop and allow the bonnet to drop off, admitting the sea. Arrangements were also made for the cutting of two smaller pipes leading from the sea to the donkey boiler. All water-tight doors were taken from athwartship bulkheads to give the water free access do all parts of the ship. All these preparations were made with the greatest haste, as it was desired to send the ship in before daybreak on the morning of the 2d. One of the ship's life-boats was to be towed from a line amidships on the starboard side. All cans containing stores were knocked open. The officers and crew, with the exception of Captain Miller, Assistant Engineer Crank, Machinist J. P. Philips, Ordinary Seaman Diegman and Acting Water Tender Kelley, were sent to the flagship New York. Mr. Hobson was, of course, to remain aboard to take the ship in. In addition Boatswain Mullen and Gunner's Mate Cherett and Montague came aboard in the afternoon to form a part of the crew. The preparations were not completed until nearly daylight.

"This was at daybreak on June 2d. Word was sent to us in the engine room that the fires might be banked and that the engines would not be needed further. It had been decided to postpone that attempt until the night. Of course, the nervous strain had been very great on the men and had acted as a stimulus to keep them up. The men left their stations and the ship steamed out further from shore. She was separated from all the fleet, and in her abandoned, gutted condition certainly seemed like the doomed vessel she was. The Marblehead came near the ship about 8 o'clock to get the personal effects of the officers which had been, however, sent aboard the Massachusetts the afternoon before. It was requested that some food be sent aboard, as there had been none left on board and no means of preparing any. Some coffee and hardtack were sent aboard from the Marblehead. This was all that the men had until late in the afternoon except those who went on board the flagship about 2 o'clock to rest and get something to eat. Boatswain Mullen went aboard the flagship and did not return for the second and final attempt. Seaman Murphy of the Iowa came aboard to take his place. The men lay around the ship most of the day attempting to get a little rest. Some slight changes in the original plans were made.

"About 1:20 Mr. Hobson came on the bridge. All the men who were to go in with the ship—Montague, Cherret, Phillips, Diegnam, Murphy, and Kelley—called up and given final instructions as to their duties. Everything was made ready below. The relief crew and myself were sent aboard the Texas. The ship was steaming in toward the entrance at 'dead slow' so as to enable the launch to go over the Texas and and then catch her. This was about 2:30 A. M.

"At 3:15 A. M. the first shot was fired, coming from one of the guns on the hill to the left of the entrance. The shot was seen to splash seaward from the Merrimac, having passed over her. The firing became general very soon after, being especially fierce and rapid from the batteries inside on the left of the harbor, probably from batteries on Caya smith. The flashes and reports were apparently those of rapid-fire guns, ranging from small automatic guns to four-inch or larger. For fifteen minutes a perfect fusillade was kept up. Then the fire slackened and at 3:30 had almost ceased. A close watch was kept on the mouth of the harbor in order to pick up the steam launch. There was a little desultory firing until about 3:45 o'clock, when all became quiet. Daylight came about 5 o'clock. At about 5:15 the launch was seen, steaming from west to east near or across the mouth of the harbor. She steamed back from east to west and then began skirting the coast to the west of the entrance.

"Mr. Powell came alongside the Texas and reported that 'no one had come out of the entrance of the harbor.' His words sounded like the death knell of all who had gone in on the Merrimac. It seemed incredible.—almost impossible, that any of them could have lived through the awful fire that was directed at the ship.

"There was probably no one in the fleet who did not think that all seven of the men had perished. In the afternoon, much to the surprise of everyone, a tug flying the flag of truce was seen coming out of the entrance. The Vixen, flying a table cloth at the fore, went to meet the tug. A Spanish officer went aboard the Vixen from the tug, and was taken aboard the flagship. Not long afterward a signal was made that Murphy of the Iowa was saved and was a prisoner of war. About 4 o'clock another signal was made from the flagship: 'Collier's crew prisoners of war. Two slightly wounded. All well.' It can easily be imagined what relief this signal brought to all hands, who had been mourning the death of all the men.

"The Spanish officer said also that the prisoners were confined in Morro Castle. He said further that Admiral Cervera considered the attempt to run in and sink the Merrimac across the channel as an act of such bravery and desperate daring that he thought it only proper that our Admiral should be notified of the safety of the men. Whatever the motive for sending out the tug with the flag of truce, the act was of most chivalrous courtesy. The Spanish officer is reported to have said: 'You have made it more difficult, but we can still get out.' From bearings of the Merrimac (whose masts and smoke pipes could be plainly seen) taken in the afternoon it appears that she is lying with her bow to the seaward just above Estrella Point, with her stern swung around until she lies almost parallel to the direction of the channel. From the fact that she is completely submerged, except her masts and smoke pipes, it would seem that she is sunk some little distance from the right bank. However she is not lying across the channel.

"So far as blockading the channel the attempt cannot be said to be successful. It is probable that the anchor on the starboard quarter carried away the stoppers on the chain and also the bitts, which were not very securely fastened and the chain must have cut through the rail as far as the midship section of the ship. This would have permitted the stern to swing entirely around until the ship lay up and down the channel. According to the Spanish reports of the affair sent to Madrid, one of the big American liners attempted to force the entrance of the harbor and had been sunk in the channel by the batteries and only seven of her crew escaped. Whether a failure or successful, the attempt of the Merrimac will undoubtedly go down to history as one of the bravest and most daring deeds in naval annals. Mr. Hobson and the men under him were fully alive to the desperate if not hopeless nature of the expedition and of their small chances of escape from death. There was no shrinking. On the contrary there was the greatest eagerness to be allowed to go with the ship. The steady refusal of Mr. Hobson to have more on board than were absolutely indispensable for the bare discharge of the duties required showed how well he appreciated the danger. He declined to grant the persistent and earnest entreaties of a number of young officers who begged permission to go. It seems well now that he went alone and that all the honor and praise are his."

TORPEDOES NOT DEADLY BULLETS.

Two Small Boys Caused the Scare Which Troubled Richard Garnett.

Deputy Constable Hitchcock Found the Cause of All the Trouble.

The mystery surrounding the "murderous attack" upon Richard Garnett at his home on the corner of Perry and Vernon streets last Saturday evening, was cleared up last night and the cause of all the excitement proved to be two small boys, a dog, tin can and a couple of toy torpedoes.

Garnett reported to the police Sunday morning that he had been attacked by a man he supposed was a burglar.

Shortly after 9 o'clock he heard a noise in his back yard, followed by the fierce barking of a watch dog. Thinking that some one was attempting to effect an entrance through a rear window, Garnett, revolver in hand, went out to investigate. As he opened the dood there was a flash accompanied by the report of a revolver and Garnett made out the form of a man fifteen feet away. Garnett says he could have shot the man, but, not caring to do so, released the dog, who made for the intruder. The stranger took a shot at the dog and then made off. Garnett followed for some distance but soon saw that it was useless to attempt to catch the man and gave up the chase.

Detective Holland was put on the case but soon reported that there was nothing in it, and the matter was then placed in the hands of Deputy Constable Hitchcock, who succeeded in clearing up the mystery to the satisfaction of all persons concerned.

Last night Chief Fletcher had all the witnesses in his office. Two boys, named Leland Garfield and Ernest Coffin, testified that they were passing Garnett's house Saturday night and as his dog was barking loudly they threw a tin can at him and followed it up with a couple of torpedoes and then went home. The Chief has no doubt the boys told the truth, and is convinced that no bullets were fired. The affair created a sensation around Piedmont, where there is little police protection.

THE SOLDIERS' PRAYER.

'Tis night on Cuba's torrid plains,
And wriggling reptiles round me creep;
The winds are hushed, dead silence reigns,
"Now I lay me down to sleep."

While somber night with raven wings
Is brooding o'er the mighty deep,
In gloom enshrouding earthly things,
"I pray the Lord my soul to keep."

Should my spirit wing its flight,
Ere the light of morn shall break,
Guide me to the realms of light,
"If I should die before I wake."

Hear, oh God, my earnest plea,
If the golden thread shall break,
Prayer learned at my mother's knee—
"I pray the Lord my soul to take."

"If I should die before I wake."

MRS. J. T. COCHRAN HAS DISAPPEARED.

Left Her Home Yesterday and Has Not Since Been Heard From.

Mrs. Lucy Cochran, wife of J. T. Cochran, contractor and owner of the Iron Mountain Quarry, disappeared from the family residence on Claremont avenue yesterday between the hours of 11 and 5:30 o'clock. She has not been heard from since.

Mrs. Cochran is 52 years of age, about 5 feet tall, weighs about 97 pounds and when last seen wore a gray skirt and jacket.

She took with her a blue and gray shawl, a sealskin coat and a small black valise. It is believed the lady is suffering from an attack of temporary insanity.

The husband is deeply concerned regarding the strange disappearance and can not imagine any reason for it other than that his wife's mind is temporarily deranged. He says she has complained lately of headaches and other troubles. Mrs. Cochran, who is 52 years of age, was essentially a home woman and was very fond of her family. The idea that domestic troubles might be at the bottom of the disappearance is scouted by those who know her and have been in the happy home.

The police have been notified.

NAOMI CUSHMAN GOES TO STOCKTON.

Naomi Cushman, the crazy woman who yesterday was arrested by an officer while she was out with her axe looking for Spaniards, was to-day committed to Stockton Asylum by Judge Greene. Drs. Tisdale and Millton examined her this morning and recommended her confinement.

Her condition is almost pitiable. She is only 31 years of age and her mind is entirely unbalanced. Her property consists of the rags upon her back, and these were so scarce that she could not be taken into court for examination.

SHERIFF WHITE RECEIVES ORDERS.

A Lunatic May Have Escaped From Stockton Insane Asylum.

Sheriff White today received a peculiar notice. It was signed by a man who is supposed to be in Stockton Insane Asylum, but the fact that the postal bore an Oakland post mark, as well as the number of the man's suburban residence, would lead one to believe that the man may have escaped from the asylum, as he once before has done, and is now at home. Following is the text of the letter:

"You are hereby notified to stop sending any more patients to the Stockton Crazy House. There are 600 to be released by my order today, and paid an indemnity of $100,000,000 each for false imprisonment. Send Mr. Gates there, and also Officer Quinlan, and oblige your humble servant,

"STEPHEN THOMPSON HOLLIDAY,
"High Street, Fruitvale."

IN THE COURTS TODAY

The contest affecting the estate of the late John W. Smith was set today for September 12th.

Louis De Bret's trial has been set by Judge Ellsworth for August 31st.

ESTATES APPRAISED IN THE COUNTY TODAY.

Inventory and appraisement of the estate of the late George Morey Richardson was filed to-day. It estimates the value at $16,864.25. With the exception of $9,964.25, the property is realty; the balance is personal, and consists of promissory notes.

The estate of Rebecca Morris, deceased, has been appraised at $1600.

Inventory and appraisement of the estate of Justinian Caire, deceased, shows a total valuation of $2,000.

CARCELON ESTATE AGAIN IN COURT.

Noble Hamilton, a creditor of the estate of the late Catherine M. Carcelon, who contested the first account of George W. Reed, as administrator of the estate, has filed a rejection of all the administrator's amendments to the account. Hamilton is represented by Warren Olney.

Beaten by Two Men

Tom Macdonough, an employe of the Contra Costa Water Company, appeared at the City Hall this afternoon to have a warrant sworn out for the arrest of Thomas Stack and his son on a charge of battery. He said he was going to Doran's bakery to get a loaf of bread and while passing through the yard adjoining the bakery was set upon by a butcher named Tom Stack and his son. Macdonough said one held him while the other beat him and disfigured his face.

Violated an Ordinance

Pietro Move Pietro, who conducts a saloon at 314 Pacific street, San Francisco and resides in this city, was arrested this afternoon upon a complaint sworn to by Sanitary Inspector Perkins charging him with violation of the sanitary ordinance. The prisoner furnished cash bail and was released.

DARK SIDE OF THE GOLD RUSH.

Disgusted Prospectors Who Fared Ill on Copper River.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 23.—Fifty prospectors who left here last spring for Alaska by way of Copper river arrived here today on their way to their Eastern homes with hard luck stories and no gold. A. H. Hostetter of La Grange, Ind., was with 200 men that crossed Tasmuna lake and reached the Konsinu river. He said: "Of the many hundreds that landed at the foot of the Valdes glacier only one party had been in further than the Konsinu, and the men returned half starved, having lost their outfits in the rapids. It was reported that seven lives had been lost in the rapids, but the report had not been confirmed."

The most discouraging story is told by A. C. Johnson of St. Louis. He said about 800 men have been turned back and are waiting at Valdes for some means of getting out of the country. Some have no money, and will have to remain there until the Government sends help. They will not starve, for tons of provisions have been abandoned. It is impossible to sell outfits.

I. W. TABER HAS RETURNED FROM EUROPE.

Photographed the Prince of Wales in London and Bernhardt in Paris.

I. W. Taber, the well known photographic artist, has returned to San Francisco after a prolonged absence in Europe. Mr. Taber's London experiences have been most interesting and resulted in achieving for him an unqualified success. He has established a studio in the British metropolis and made a reputation by the bas-relief system which was conceived and perfected at the San Francisco establishment and now English celebrities and beauties figure in his list of patrons.

The sculpture idea attracted attention, and among the prominent men who subjected themselves to Mr. Taber's manipulation was the Prince of Wales, who was photographed in his study at Marlborough House. The seance, according to the artist, was very agreeable, and the Prince proved an accommodating if not a very steady sitter. Six plates were used and but one of them proved available. Mr. Taber was also privileged to make a number of views of the beautiful home of Sarah Bernhardt in Paris in which he was very successful. There is no operator in American who has made more exposures than Mr. Taber, so his impressions on the subject of faces should be of especial value. He declares there are more pretty faces and fine figures in this city of the Golden West than he encountered in New York, London or Paris. He has brought back with him many souvenirs of the trip abroad, and among them a very complimentary letter from Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, whose photograph made an admirable bas-relief. He says in his note: "It strikes me that the sculptors will have much to thank you for, as it will now be possible for them to reproduce a face in marble with the utmost fidelity lon gafter its owner has withdrawn from this earthly sphere."

Higher Patriotism Urged.

CHICAGO, June 23.—The National Christian Citizenship League, in its fifth annual call for the celebration of the Fourth of July, requests all patriots to utilize the national holiday "In impressing the need of that righteousness which exalteth a nation," and appeals in particular to all pastors, churches, young people's organizations, all temperance and patriotic societies and all other leaders to unite in arranging such celebrations, mass meetings and other exercises as shall make it indeed a "new Fourth of July," which shall be marked, "not only by rejoicings over our unprecedented national blessings, but also by the growth of a higher patriotism that shall eventuate in a new order of things wherein present evils will be impossible."

Kansas City Banks Combine.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 23.—Business circles here were surprised by the announcement that the Citizens' National Bank, the oldest national bank in Kansas City, had been absorbed by the Union National. The merged bank, it is said, was not doing a profitable business. Without any previous notice, the two banks opened under one management this morning.

THIRD WARD REPUBLICANS ENTHUSIASTIC.

Precinct Chairman Says Pardee Has Greater Strength.

Will Yield to Davis if the Latter Has Most Delegates.

The meeting of the Third Ward Republican Club last night in Syndicate Hall was one of the most enthusiastic political gatherings yet held in this city. The reports of chairman of precinct committees showed a steady gain in the direction of having Dr. Pardee the sole candidate for Governor from Alameda county.

Mr. Gross, chairman of the Second Precinct committee, said that he had canvassed his district and had found no Davis men. Mr. Randolph thought the Third Precinct would go for Dr. Pardee by a large majority. Vice President Campbell said the best of results could be expected in the Fourth Precinct. Mr. Cook, in the First Precinct, found no opposition to Dr. Pardee and succeeded in getting three voters who were not Republicans to join the Pardee Club.

Mr. Johns added several names from the Sixth Precinct to the club membership.

Mr. Bixby interviewed several men who would forego their politics to support Dr. Pardee.

Secretary Meredith said he felt certain that the Seventh Precinct would be for Dr. Pardee.

Councilman Cuvellier said the only men he had met who were opposed to Dr. Pardee were Democrats. They were afraid of him and would rather have Mr. Davis to fight.

Ralph Bellingall thought Fruitvale would go for Dr. Pardee.

William Powers, secretary of the Young Men's Republican League, said he had met many Democrats who were enthusiastic Davis men because they thought they could beat him and could not beat Dr. Pardee.

Frank Barnett said he was working hard in the Sixth Ward, and felt assured of Dr. Pardee's success.

H. D. Talcott was then called upon for a short address, and said:

"Two candidates will kill the county's chance. Alameda county should have the nomination. It is the duty of every member of the club to make the Pardee majority so overwhelming that Mr. Davis will retire from the contest.

"No man can go to the convention and succeed without the entire support of his party. It is the time for a Republican victory, and the able course of Dr. Pardee in office and through campaign work will carry him through without question."

During the applause which followed, Dr. Pardee was ushered in, and three cheers were given for him. He was then called to the platform and introduced by Vice President Campbell as the next Governor of California.

Dr. Pardee spoke as follows:

"Gentlemen: I hope to be Governor, and appreciate your efforts in my behalf. Unfortunately there are two aspirants in this county for the same position. There should be but one candidate to the State Convention. If I cannot get the nomination, I want the other man to get it. We must have a solid delegation. I have been and am willing to arrange with my opponent that the one who gets the majority be the one to go to the convention. I want the nominee to be an Alameda county man and have a solid delegation. If I cannot get the majority, I want my supporters to back Mr. Davis."

Repeated applause followed Dr. Pardee's address. When quiet was restored, the following communication was read by the secretary:

"Third Ward Club, George Meredith, Secretary—Dear Sir: I regret that it is impossible for me to be present at your meeting this evening per your invitation. However, I wish you to know that I am heartily in favor of George Pardee for Governor of California, and to that end I shall do all in my power.

"No other Councilman or Mayor ever worked so untiringly and unselfishly for the interests of Oakland, unless they were paid handsomely for it. We owe them nothing.

"Alameda county showed its superior strength and good judgment at the last Presidential election, in casting its mighty majority for the man who has proved himself a safe leader in war as well as in peace. Now that we are entitled to the choice for Governor, let us put our shoulders to the wheel and insist upon our rights to place in nomination George Pardee, the man whom we know to be the right man for the place.

"W. H. WEILBYE."

The meeting was then adjourned.

SHIPS FOR THE YUKON.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

English Coal Famine.

Associated Press Dispatches by The Tribune's Special Leased Wire.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The continued strike in the Welsh coal mines has reduced the supply of English coal to such an extent that the mail and passenger steamers of some of the best English lines running from England to Cape Town, Africa, and Australia and South America, have been forced to rely on American steamer coal.

Acting Secretary Spalding has granted permission to the representatives of Sir Donald Currie, proprietor of the Castle line of steamers, running from England to Cape Town, to clear cargoes of coal from Philadelphia to Capt Town, in order to enable the company to keep up its regular trips between England and Africa.
